1. The Generaldirektor of the Neptun Werft is the Soviet Captain (2nd Rank) Pfeiffer. The Leiter of the German section for Maschinenbau is named Franz, while the head of the shipbuilding department is Pagel.
2. The Werft employs 3,300 men; in mid-September the Werft contained the former Tsar's yacht, "Standard", two former German M-Boote, some armored "Fischdampfer", "Schnellboote", and minesweepers. The Werft is well supplied with necessary material; in particular it has 10,000 cubic meters of wood.
3. The Werft is subordinated to the Red Navy and is highly appreciated by the Soviets for ship repairs. The Werft works almost always on two shifts, sometimes on three. Skilled workers are paid 1.30 - 1.40 RM per hour, and are satisfactorily looked after.
4. The yard installations have not been dismantled; the machinery which was dismantled in 1945 has been replaced twice over by new machinery brought from Saxony and Thuringia.
